

Foundation for International Environmental Law and Development (FIELD)

Job Description

Job Title:	Programme Administrator
Responsible to:	FIELD Director
Main contacts:	Colleagues in FIELD and IIED, interns, partners, donors, members of the public
Main purpose:	To provide administrative and general communications support to FIELD
Salary:	Programme Grade 5: £22,625 - £28,257 pro rata
Contract:	Permanent part-time, 4 days per week or 28 hours per week
Location:	London

Background to the post

FIELD is a small team of experienced international lawyers. In April 2005, FIELD became a subsidiary of IIED. FIELD continues to be an independent charitable organisation but now shares offices, core services, a Board of Trustees, and an increasing number of multi-disciplinary projects and activities with IIED.

FIELD's international environmental law work comprises three broad programmes: climate change and energy, biodiversity and marine resources, and trade, investment and sustainable development.

The postholder will provide administrative support to FIELD's lawyers and Director.

FIELD Staff

Camilla Toulmin
Acting Director

MJ Mace
Programme
Director

Linda Siegele
Staff Lawyer

Christoph Schwarte
Staff Lawyer

Ilona
Millar
Staff Lawyer

Vacant
Programme
Administrator

Key responsibilities

1. To develop systems for, and provide, general administrative support - to include copy typing and copy editing of documents, photocopying, the circulation of information, electronic and paper filing, outside storage and archives & publications stock management dealing with despatch/ couriers, maintaining stationery supplies etc.

2. To assist with preparations, and provide logistical support, for meetings, workshops, conferences and seminars, both at FIELD/IIED and other venues. This includes taking responsibility for flight and accommodation bookings, communications with participants (including assistance with visa applications), assistance in preparation of documentation, and ensuring agenda and minutes are provided where necessary.
3. To organise travel arrangements for staff and consultants, including accommodation and visas. To liaise and support staff when they are travelling overseas.
4. To draft narrative reports for internal and external audiences and liaise with others in order to complete them (for example, monthly Programme Newsletter, reports for the Board, reports for funders, relevant sections of proposals or concept notes etc). Maintain up-to-date records of institutional developments and procedures.
5. To respond to correspondence on behalf of staff on request and to take responsibility for prompt handling of general enquiries for information by post, phone, fax or email - replying directly whenever possible and referring to other staff when necessary.
6. To attend external and internal meetings where appropriate in order to report back to staff.
7. To establish, maintain and update the database of addresses, contacts, past interns and staff.
8. To update, monitor and maintain the FIELD Budget – including administration of project contracts, donations, managing invoices, keeping track of contract milestones and payments and liaising with the Finance Department.
9. To maintain FIELD's website, updating its news and events section on a weekly basis, liaising with staff over website developments, adding papers and projects as requested and drafting text.
10. To search the Internet to research and collate information on various subjects as required.
11. To maintain and update the list of publications on the website and in the filing cabinet and process publication requests.
12. To coordinate the production and mailing of "FIELD in Brief" newsletter.
13. To co-ordinate FIELD's internships programmes
14. To provide assistance with FIELD computer software and email systems. This will involve liaising with the external computer helpdesk if any problems occur with emails and maintaining up-to-date records and instructions on warranties, maintenance problems and new computer procedures.

15. To participate in the production of FIELD teaching materials as required and to organise and coordinate yearly teaching schedule and invoicing.

The job description defines the level of responsibility and area(s) of involvement of the post; the details of the duties may change over time and do not form part of the contract between FIELD and the post holder.

Person specification:

Essential Skills and Experience

- First degree or equivalent level of education
- Four years experience in programme and/or project administration
- Excellent knowledge of spreadsheets (Excel), word-processing (Word), communications packages (Microsoft Outlook) and the Internet
- Excellent written skills in English developed through drafting text, copy-editing, proof-reading and editorial skills
- Experience of managing budgets/financial monitoring
- Excellent verbal communication skills developed through interacting with a wide variety of people from different cultures
- Experience of arranging meetings, seminars, workshops, etc.
- Enthusiastic and able to build effective relationships in a challenging environment
- Ability to work independently and as part of a multicultural team
- Ability to be adaptable and flexible, prioritise work effectively and balance conflicting demands without close supervision
- A good general grounding in politics and current affairs and an interest in and understanding of the issues involved in Sustainable Development and International Environmental Law

Desirable

- Good working knowledge of French, Spanish, Portuguese or other major international language
- Experience of using PowerPoint, Access and Adobe Acrobat
- Law Degree or knowledge of International Environmental Law
- Knowledge and experience of managing and maintaining a website